GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

Dublin, Oct. 13. Our Writs for electing Members of Parliament bore Test last Saturday, and this Day they were sent into the Country.

From the Paris Letter, dated Oct. 27.

Paris, Oct. 27. The King and the Dauphin are in perfect Health: The Court sets out for Marly the 2d of next Month. The King is frequently abroad taking the Air and Hunting in the Park, and the 23d he was out a Shooting Pheasants flying, accompanied by the Duke of Berry. In the mean while his Majesty does not omit being in Council often with his Ministers, touching Means of relieving his People, by diminishing the Tallies and other Taxes by little and little, till the Peace become general; and 'tis talked the Offices of Inspectors of the Duties of Importation, and others of the like Nature, will be suppress'd. Cardinal Gualtieri has taken Leave of the King, in order to go back to Rome: And the Prince de Vaudmont is set out on his Return to Commercy. The Duchesse du Maine gave a great Entertainment last Week at Sceaux, where there was a Play, and afterwards a Ball. The Marquis de Torcy received last Week a Letter from King Stanislaus, dated from the Camp at Coczin the 20th of September. 'Tis advis'd from the Camp before Fribourg the 18th Instant, that the Marshal de Villars had refused to give Leave to the Ecclesiastics and Women to come out of the Place, in which there was a Fire the 16th caused by our Bombs that burnt down several Houses: That on the 17th Batteries were begun to be rais'd for making Breaches: That the same Day the Besieged turned Water into the Ditch of the Place which was dry, by Means of a Slayce that communicates with the River, so that in 24 Hours the Ditch, which is 20 or 24 Foot in Depth, was filled with Water within a Foot of the Edge of the Covered-Way on the Left, and within 3 Foot of it on the Right; but by Means of a Drain, or vaulted Canal made on the Right, the Water is running off to a hollow Way; and to prevent its falling into the Trenches on the Right, Men are working to give it Course through the lower Grounds towards Zer ingen. The 20th our Batteries will begin to fire to make Breaches, and ruine the Defences of a Half-Moon, which must necessarily be taken, before we can make the Descent into the Ditch. All this will retard the taking of the Town several Days; and 'tis likely the Siege of Fort St. Peter may draw out into some Length, because the Besieged repair in the Night what our Batteries ruine in the Day, which they do the more easily, because the continual Foggs obstruct the Sight of our Gunners, so that we shall be obliged to augment the Batteries of the Attack of that Fort. The 20th at Night Monseigneur the Duke was to mount the Trenches for the first Time, in Quality of Major-General.

Dunkirk, Oct. 20. We are Demolishing the Outworks of this Place as fast as the Season will permit; and considering the few Hands that are employed on the numerous Works of this Place, they give all the Dispatch they can. They have levelled the Outworks of the Basse-ville, and are now about the Innerworks; and are sending their Cannon, Small-Arms, and all sorts of Ammunition of War, in Billanders to their Frontier Garrisons; and are also lading a very large Fly-boat with the spare Masts. They have uncovered the Church and most of the Houses at the Risebank, Fort-Revers, and Fort-Blanc, but they save all the Slate and Board; and have made 8 Mines within the Risebank close to the Wall, some of them under the Foundation; and are making large Holes in each Side of the Gateway of the Wall, which they cut with Chissels, and are to be filled with Powder: 'Tis discours'd that they will be ready in 12 Days to blow it up. There is an Order come from Court for all the Officers, Soldiers, Sailors, and Slaves that belong to the Gallies, to be in readiness to leave this Place: They talk as if they are to be carried by Water to Rean, and from thence by Land to Marseilles. They expect an Order from Court to fit out the Ships in the Bason, which we hear are to be got ready in February next.
